THE LATEST IN ACRYLIC SOLID SURFACE!

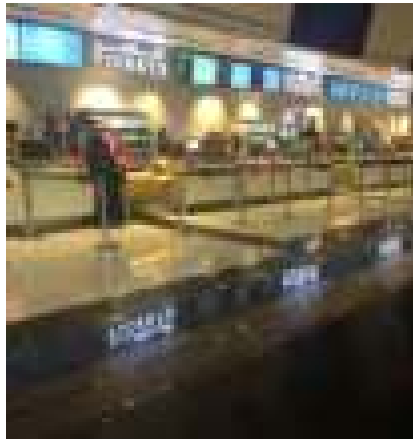

Imagine a surface light in weight, with better physical and chemical properties than natural marble, can be cut, fabricated and polished using conventional woodworking tools, glued together to form seamless joints, can be repaired and refurbished to original glory with ease and available in amazing colours! That is Denolex the latest in acrylic solid surface.

Denolex is a composite material based on advanced polymer technology. It can be described as artificial marble with unimaginable and versatile features. Deviating from the limitation of conventional stone surfaces, Denolex offers surfaces that encompass the best of natural and synthetic surfaces to the changing tastes of the society. Hence, ahead of others in the demanding business of solid surface.

- Vast array of colors & patterns
- Stain resistant and chemically stable
- Non- allergic and non-toxic
- Anti-termite and bacterial and fungal
- Water tight with seamless joints
- Chip-free properties
- Strong but light weight
- Repairable and reworkable
- Remarkable finish
